ABOUT US

---

I have had huge successes and equally sized failures. My life has been intense and adventurous; consequently many body parts have been broken and/or rebuilt including a broken neck and back. All of these adventures and many more happened while I was in the staffing business. This business saved my life and gave me everything. My passion for recruiting and my desire to pass on what I have learned to as many people as possible is what inspired this blog. I will help people overcome all the obstacles and challenges of the job search.

OUR VISION

As a recruiter I coined the term "Functional Fit" to describe what I accomplish for clients and candidates. I found the candidates who had the skills and abilities required by the client. That is where most recruiters stop. A "Functional Fit" means that the candidate's values and goals match those of the client. The candidate's personality, people and communication skills match those of the team he/she will be joining. As a coach I help my clients find the same fit.

There are no job search coaches with more experience and expertise in all areas of a successful job search or who have more affordable fees. No coach will give you more for less.
